

Dave Nelson
Belmond, IA

On our family farm, my brothers and I have been able to control our weed and insect pests with biotechnology and safe chemical technology. This has not only allowed us to reduce our cost of production, but has also allowed us to reduce exposure to chemicals for ourselves and our employees. Further, we have dramatically reduced tillage, which reduces our fuel usage and decreases soil loss.