

Whereas, the Renewable Fuel Standard has been a successful public policy for our nation's energy security, the environment and rural America and

Whereas, the Renewable Identification Number (RIN) component of the Renewable Fuel Standard is vital to the success of the RFS and

Whereas, RINs are the market mechanism that drives blending to obligated levels and

Whereas, Any cap or other manipulation of the RIN program would disrupt that mechanism and diminish the related incentive to blend and

Whereas, farmers across the country are facing historically low prices and the farm economy is truly suffering

Therefore, we, the assembled voting delegates of the National Corn Growers Association, do ask President Donald Trump to retain the current RIN system without change.
